Gertrude and Alice
100 Years, 100 Roses
1907 - 2007

gertrudeandalice
Wednesday, September 5, 2007
7:00 p.m.
Broadside Bookshop
247 Main Street
Northampton, Massachusetts
PRESS ONLY: For information: Ellen Miller-Mack: 413-586-0591
Roxie Mack at Broadside Bookshop: 413-586-4235

Call all couplings just that please and a way to irrigate is a fountain, a folding dish and a head meadow, a folding glass and a heated moan, a brittle orange and a soon, all so soon, acres sideling. Gertrude Stein

Poets Jan Freeman, Ellen Watson, Dara Wier, Ellen Miller-Mack and Roxie Mack will read their favorite pieces by Gertrude Stein in honor of the first meeting of Gertrude Stein and Alice B. Toklas 100 years ago. Anecdotes written by Gertrude and Alice about their life together will be read by Erika Arthur and Sheila Petigny-Perry. Alice's Cookies will be served at the reception following the reading. Co-sponsored by: Perugia Press and The Poetry Center at Smith College.

This event is free and open to all. For additional information:
Broadside Bookshop 413-586-4235